

30 May 1971

* * *

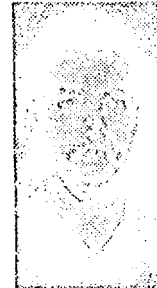

CHE CENSORSHIP: Miami's militant anti-Castro exiles and Uruguay's pro-Castro Tupamaro guerrillas share a common dislike for the movie "Che," starring Omar Sharif in the title role of the late Cuban revolutionary. The exiles forced cancellation of the movie

SHARIF

POLLACK

GUEVARA

recently in Miami Beach. The Tupamaros did likewise in Montevideo, the Uruguayan capital, when they destroyed the only copy of the film in the South American country in a lightning raid on the theater that was showing it. The Cuban News Agency Prensa Latina, in reporting the Tupamaro action, claimed the film "disparages the personality of Major Ernesto Che Guevara."